Finding A Loved One's Date of Death and Burial Site

If possible, try to identify the approximate year that your loved one was in Greystone. Please refer to the accompanying article, "Identifying One's Loved One as a Greystone Patient". The NJ State Archives can conduct a search, at a reasonable fee, for death records. Visit https://nj.gov/state/archives/search.html or call the Reference Section at #609-984-1050.

If your loved one was in Greystone prior to 1966 and you don't know where he/she is buried there is a chance that he/she might have been buried in Evergreen Cemetery (Morristown, NJ) . From 1877-1966, approximately 1,600 Greystone patients were buried in Evergreen Cemetery. A large majority of them were buried prior to 1928. More information about Evergreen can be found under the "Additional Information" section of the website, www.greystoneoralhistory.com. Evergreen kept detailed records of Greystone burials and you can contact their administrative office at: 973-538-2111.

Some Greystone patients were buried elsewhere in New Jersey. One avenue to identify these individuals is to :

1. Go to the FamilySearch.org Go into their catalog.
2. Enter: New Jersey in the Place box.
3. Click on: Search.
4. Click on: Cemeteries.
5. Click on: Places within New Jersey.
6. Click on the county you want to search. You might try the county where the individual's family is from.
7. Click on: Cemeteries

Note: FamilySearch.org is a free database. However, any information you enter regarding your family will become public information. This might be helpful if previously unknown unknown members of your family are also using the database.

Findagrave.com offers a free trial and is another resource for locating a grave site.